

ACR 128 : Heat Load Calculations

This course focuses on heat flow into and out of building structures. Emphasis is placed on determining heat gain/ heat loss of a given structure. Upon completion, students should be able to calculate heat load and determine HVAC equipment size requirements.

Credits 3

Theory Credit

3

Prerequisites

Permission of instructor