

ART 221 : Computer Graphics I

This course is designed to enhance the student's ability to produce computer generated graphics. Emphasis is on the application of original design to practical problems using a variety of hardware and software. Upon completion, students should have an understanding of professional computer graphics.

Code C

Credits 3

Experimental Laboratory Credit

6