

ORI 110 : Freshman Seminar

This course is designed to provide students the opportunity to develop and enhance their technology skills, explore careers and majors, and develop a personalized program of study that will map out their educational and career goals. Primary focus will be placed on meeting and working with the student's advisor to develop a strong plan of study, enhancing their skills in locating and gathering information, and engaging in critical thinking.

Credits 1

Theory Credit

1