

SUR 102 : Applied Surgical Technologies

This course is the application of principles of asepsis and the role of the surgical technologist. Emphasis is placed on creating and maintaining a sterile environment, identification of surgical instruments, equipment, and supplies, proper patient positioning for surgical procedures, and applying skills of intra-operative procedures. Upon completion of this course, the student should be able to name and select basic surgical instruments, supplies, and equipment, participate in mock surgical procedures.

Credits 4

Theory Credit

2

Skills Laboratory/Clinical Practice

6

Prerequisites

Admission to the Surgical Technology Program and EMS 106

Corequisites

SUR 100, SUR 107 and SUR 108