

ACR 128: Heat Load Calculations

This course focuses on heat flow into and out of building structures. Emphasis is placed on determining heat gain/ heat loss of a given structure. Upon completion, students should be able to calculate heat load and determine HVAC equipment size requirements.

Credits: 3

Prerequisites:

Permission of instructor

Program: Air Conditioning and Refrigeration