

CAT 283: Graphics and Animation

This course is designed to tap the imagination of the student in a three-dimensional problem solving environment. Topics include a basic introduction to the concepts of 3D design and animation as applied to a design project. Upon completion, students should be able to create and animate objects in a three-dimensional environment.

Credits: 3

Prerequisites: ART 221

Program: Visual Communications