

CIS 171: Linux I

This course presents fundamental applications in Linux. Included in this course are skills development for OS installation and setup, recompile techniques, system configuration settings, file/folder structures and types, run levels, basic network applications and scripting. Additionally, the course presents security features from an administrative and user consideration.

Credits: 3

Prerequisites:

CIS 134 OR CIS 202 OR CIS 263

Program: Computer Information Systems