CIS 251 : C++ Programming

This course is an introduction to the C++ programming language, including object oriented programming. Topics include: problem solving and design, control structures, objects and events, user interface construction, and document and program testing.

Credits 3
Theory Credit
3
Prerequisites
CIS 202
or instructor approval