

CIS 251: C++ Programming

This course is an introduction to the C++ programming language, including object oriented programming. Topics include: problem solving and design, control structures, objects and events, user interface construction, and document and program testing.

Credits: 3

Prerequisites:

CIS 202

or instructor approval

Program: Computer Information Systems

Theory Credit: 3