

HED 221: Personal Health

This course introduces principles and practices of personal and family health. It includes human reproduction, growth and development, psychological dimensions of health, human sexuality, nutrition and fitness, aging, death and dying.

Credits: 3

Program: Health Education

Theory Credit: 3