

MIC 250 : Music Technology Practicum and Portfolio

This course provides practical experience in media through supervised part- or full-time employment with a newspaper, radio or television station, recording studio, or public relations/advertising agency. In addition to working in their chosen field, students will complete a studio portfolio of their work. Upon completion, students should be able to receive employment based on demonstration of their skills in their subject area and have a professional package ready to present to potential employers.

Upon completion of this course with a "C" or better, students should be able to do the following:

1. Gain practical experience in media through supervised part- or full-time employment with a newspaper, radio or television station, recording studio, or public relations/advertising agency.
2. Create a professional portfolio of work that includes at least two individual audio mixes
3. Create an online business presence that includes website, business cards, and/or online social media
