

ORI 110: Freshman Seminar

This course is designed to provide students the opportunity to develop and enhance their technology skills, explore careers and majors, and develop a personalized program of study that will map out their educational and career goals through a portfolio. Primary focus will be placed on meeting and working with the student's advisor to develop a strong plan of study; enhancing their skills in locating and gathering information; and engaging in critical thinking through reflective journals in their portfolio.

Credits: 1

Program: Orientation

Theory Credit: 1