

SOC 247: Marriage and the Family

The course is a study of family structures and families in a modern society. It covers preparation for marriage, as well as sociological, psychological, biological, and financial factors relevant to success in marriage and family life.

Credits: 3

Program: Sociology

Theory Credit: 3