

VCM 232: Advanced Computer Graphics

This course is designed to acquaint the student with computer graphics. Topics include illustration and image manipulation. Upon completion, students should be able to apply design principles to computer graphics.

Credits: 3

Program: Visual Communications